

A LIGHT UNTO MY PATH

Second Sunday of Easter - Bishop Robert Barron

When Jesus appeared to his frightened disciples on Easter night, he first showed them his wounds, so they would never forget what the sin of the world did to him. When the Lord of life came, we sinners killed him, and there is no surer indication of the deep dysfunction that bedevils the human race. But then he did something extraordinary. To those who had denied him, betrayed him, run from him in his hour of need, he said, “Shalom” (“Peace”). They, and we, are sinners, but the one whom we offend in every sin greets us, not with condemnation, but with a word of forgiving love. And this means that, in principle, there is no sin that God cannot forgive.

How wonderful that the Risen Lord came to them, though the doors of the place were locked tight. Though we lock ourselves away in the narrow space of self-reproach, Jesus enters in, overcoming whatever barrier we set up against him. Even when we cannot forgive ourselves, he pardons us; even when we deny ourselves peace of heart, he offers us Shalom.

And this is precisely why to those first Apostles he grants the privilege of mediating forgiveness to others: “Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them.” Having been pardoned themselves, the Apostles can share that same consolation. And their successors and co-workers – forgiven sinners all – down through the centuries bear the same grace.

In its every detail, this short narrative of what happened in the locked Upper Room on Easter night is an icon of the Church.

PRAYER TO ST. JOSEPH

Hail, Guardian of the Redeemer,
Spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary.
To you God entrusted his only Son;
in you Mary placed her trust;
with you Christ became man.
Blessed Joseph, to us too,
show yourself a father
and guide us in the path of life.
Obtain for us grace, mercy and courage,
and defend us from every evil. Amen.

IRISH CATHOLIC – available in the Church each week. Cost €2.50

In this weeks issue there is a feature about the National Synod.

People are invited to offer submissions in response to the question: “What would be your preferred option for engagement in a conversation process about the Synod?” Feedback, which should be no more than 300 words and submitted by Pentecost Sunday 23 May 2021, ought to focus on the nature of the process for the consultation i.e. how we can best go about this initial phase of establishing the conversation.
