Sustainable Energy Community (SEC) Project

Rathdangan Community Council has joined St Patrick's, High Park to work together on a Sustainable Energy Community (SEC) project. As we are all aware we need to use less energy into the future, the aim of this project is to help people find ways to cut their energy usage in their homes.

We are currently looking for people who want to get an energy audit done on their homes. The audit is free and will involve an energy assessor visiting your home, afterwards you will receive a report detailing what measures that you could take to increase your energy efficiency. The report will include estimated costing, information on grants available, and how long it would take to recover your investment.

There is a limit on how many homes we can include and what we would like is a mix of houses that are of different ages, so that the information could be helpful to people with similar houses. If you are interested in having your home assessed or you would like to get involved in the SEC project, please contact Mairead on 0861503063 or maireadk@hotmail.com
